CONVERSASPAIN

WALK THE JOURNEY WITH US

You may know very little about ConversaSpain now, even though the name has some hints to it. However, where do we come from? ConversaSpain is a brand of Multilingual Education Development & Support that cooperates with the Regional Education Authority of the Community of Madrid and the Region of Murcia to incorporate Auxiliares de Conversación (Language Assistants) in public schools in those regions. It was born because we believe experiencing a cultural exchange shapes people: not only our auxiliares but also Spanish schools and their students. Where we come from is not as important as where we want to get to, though.

Let's Go!

Our mission is to bring a life-changing opportunity to proficient English speakers who are willing to collaborate at schools and eager to experience first-hand the Spanish culture, lifestyle, and language. Therefore, we create a community of language, education, and travel lovers willing to give and receive. We help you navigate the bureaucratic system, boost your teaching skills, and build a social network to make your journey unforgettable.

We know. Everybody has taken a journey. Even those who have not traveled yet. Life can change in so many ways by becoming part of something, overcoming challenges, or making a positive impact on others. Those journeys took you to where you are right now. And we want to take you to the next step by walking this journey with you.

Are you ready to embark on this journey? By now, you know a little more about ConversaSpain's journey: where we come from, who we are, and where we want to get to. But, what about yours? What will your journey look like by our side?

TASKS OF THE AUXILIARES DE CONVERSACIÓN

Language Assistants are considered pillars of public schools since this role is crucial in the foreign language classroom. You will have a very active role in supporting the main teacher and helping students improve their conversation skills. You will teach English to students who are in Preschool, Primary School, Middle School, or High School. However, you will not be responsible for grading or disciplining them. The specific activities and tasks will depend 100% on the school but, in general terms, you will be expected to:

1. show initiative, autonomy, and professional behavior,
2. deliver English lessons to students,
3. help in different subjects such as Math, Physical Education, Technology, Biology, or Social Science if needed (you do not need to be an expert in those subjects, as it will still be focused on English conversation),
4. collaborate with other teachers in lesson planning and integrate into the school dynamic,
5. encourage oral practice in English (Spanish will not be allowed in class),
6. motivate students through engaging materials,
7. give short presentations, prepare games and activities, and
8. share the culture of your own country.

If you already have teaching experience, this program will be a great chance to share your knowledge with the school community and learn from a different education system. And if you do not have previous teaching experience, you want to gain more confidence in the classroom, or you want to complement your teaching practice at the school with a certification, you might consider enrolling in the TEFL course we offer as well. More info on page 12.

At the end of the program, you will also receive a Certificate of Completion issued by the school, which can boost your resume.

SCHOOL PLACEMENT

Specific Location and Age Range of Students

Public schools are located all over the regions of Madrid and Murcia. Regardless of your school location, the experience will be very enriching both at a personal and professional level. If you receive a placement in a city, you will be able to enjoy the perks of an urban lifestyle and the leisure possibilities it offers, but accommodation and other expenses will be higher. If you get a school on the outskirts of the city, you will find the comfort of the city without the frenzy. The outskirts have all types of amenities within easy reach and housing is reasonably priced. If you are assigned to a school in a town or small area (pueblo), the cost of living will be cheaper and you will experience the most authentic and charming Spanish way of life, immersing yourself in a friendly culture. Opportunities to be in touch with nature are among the highlights of these areas.

At ConversaSpain, we can place you in the region of your choice, but the Education Authority of that region will be the one assigning the specific school. They will consider your age range group and location preferences whenever possible, but we cannot guarantee your specific placement preferences will be met, as at ConversaSpain we are not in charge of the placements. Therefore, you need to be flexible and open-minded in terms of the school's location and the age range of the students to have a positive experience in the program.

MONTHLY STIPEND & COST OF LIVING

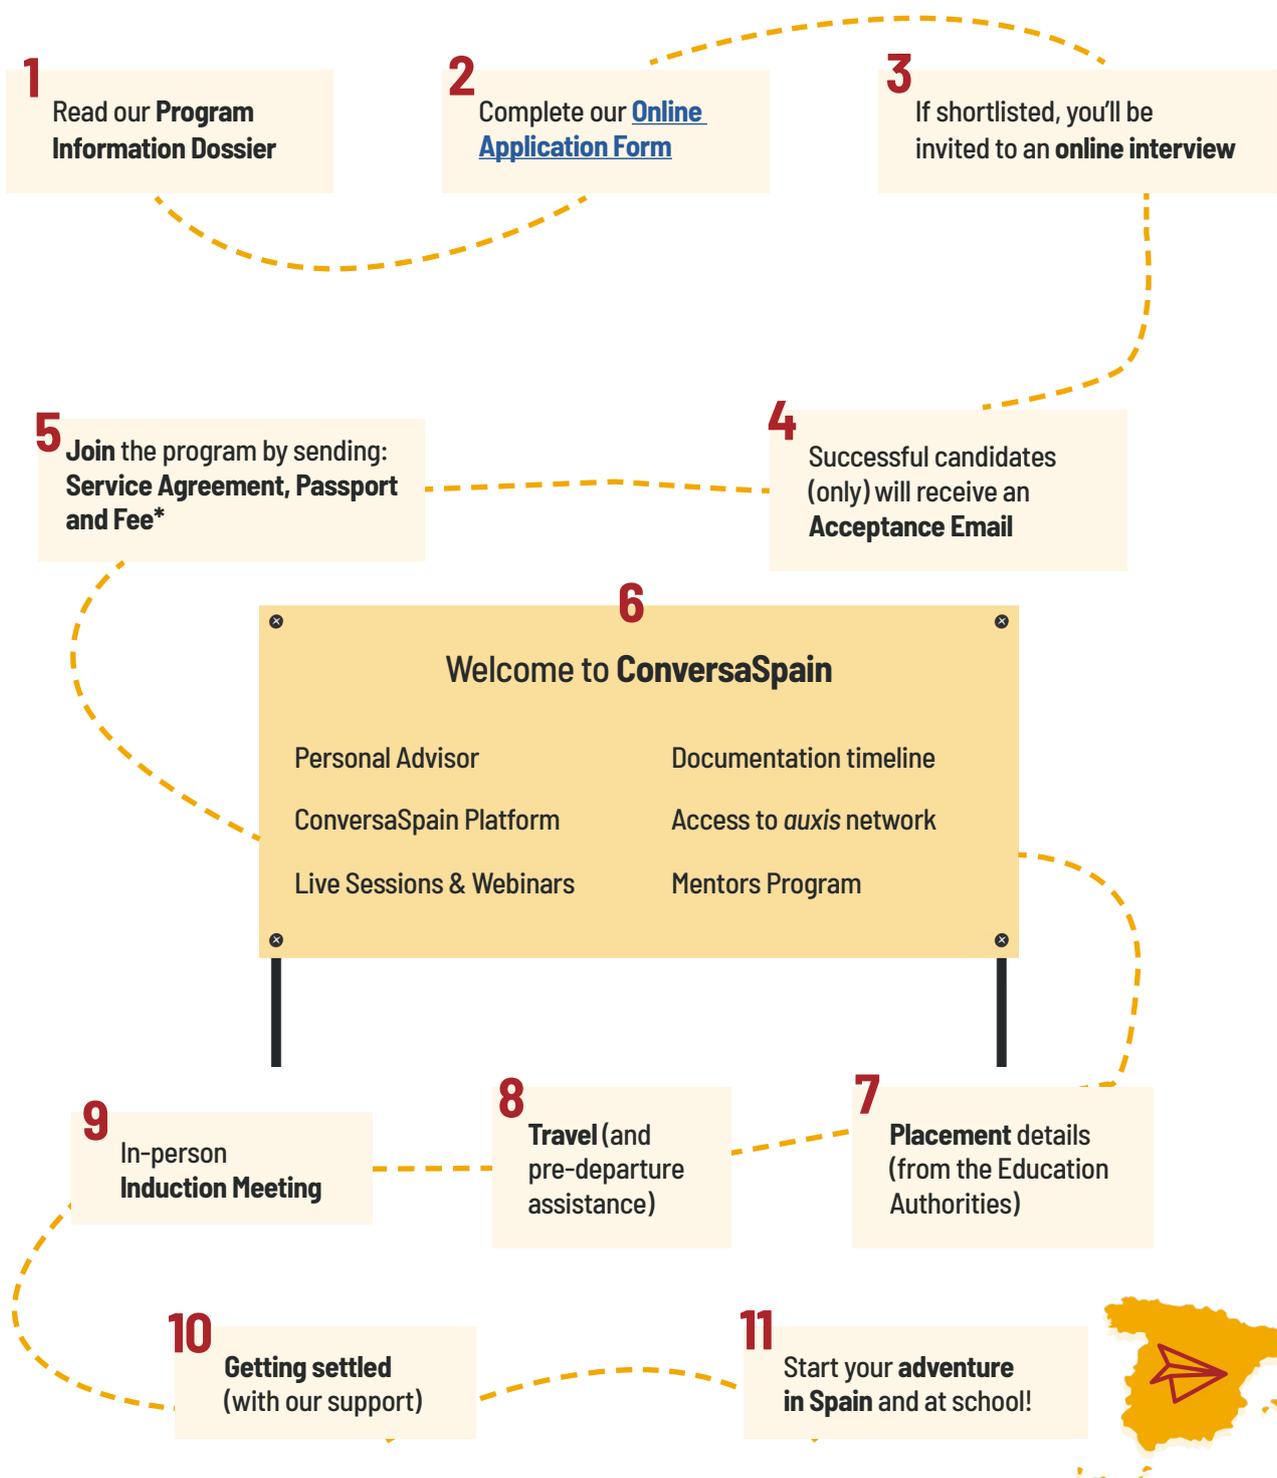

The Regional Education Authority will compensate you for your collaboration at the school with a tax-free monthly stipend of €1,000 (in the Community of Madrid), or €857 (in the Region of Murcia).

This stipend will be sent into a Spanish bank account, which means that all participants have to open a Spanish bank account as soon as they arrive in Spain to be paid on time.

The first stipend will be processed after your first month at school, so if you start in October, you may receive the stipend anytime during the month of November*, etc. Thus, we advise that you bring enough savings to get you through the first two months of the program.

*Please be advised that, in the Region of Murcia, the payment for October has typically been processed in December over the past few years. This delay occurs because payments are processed in batches and require approval from five different departments. Consequently, we recommend ensuring that you have sufficient savings to cover the interim period.

NEXT STEPS

*The fee can be paid in one installment (full fee), or two installments (reservation fee + remaining fee).

FAQs

For your convenience, we have gathered a list of frequently asked questions related to the program.

FEE PAYMENT

1. Why is there a fee?

The ConversaSpain Support fee is required to receive our services and join the program. We have a bilingual team of experts who works daily to deliver the best high-quality assistance to all Auxiliares de Conversación. The fee is a payment in exchange for the step-by-step information and constant guidance that you will receive before arriving in Spain and until the end of the program, as well as being part of something: the ConversaSpain community. You will get in touch with other auxis even before getting here, meet them at the Induction Meeting, and create lifelong connections!

2. What's included in the fee and what's not included?

The fee includes our notorious personalized support throughout the whole process: before you arrive in Spain (information about visa applications and consulates if applicable, background checks, medical certificates, sworn translations) and during your stay in Spain (to maintain your legal status). We will also help you get settled in our beautiful country (useful tips and websites to look for accommodation, open a bank account, purchase a SIM card, etc.). Besides, you will have access to our social channels, meet others, and be part of an auxiliares network.

The fee does not include the costs for the background check, medical certificates, visa (if applicable), or any other documents required. It does not include travel or accommodation expenses or any other cost not specified as covered.

3. How long do I have to send the fee?

We work on a first-come, first-served basis and we accept participants as long as there are placements available. However, if you are accepted at ConversaSpain and you want to secure your experience with us, we recommend sending the fee as soon as possible. Keep in mind that this is a highly demanded program and we run out of placements every year.

4. Are there any payment plans?

The fee can be paid in one or two installments.

PLACEMENTS

1. When will I know my school details?

The process works as follows: first, you will need to be accepted at ConversaSpain and join us by sending the required documents. Then, your data will be sent to the corresponding Education Authority when they request it, they will assign you to a school, and send you the details directly. Some placements might entail teaching in more than one school, but the schools will be located within easy reach. It is difficult to give a specific timeframe, but our participants for the October start date can expect the placement around July.

2. I am applying for the program with someone else. Can you assure us we will be placed close to each other?

We will pass this information on to the Education Authority because we are aware of the importance this might have for you, but we cannot guarantee you will be close enough to arrange accommodation together. You will likely be placed in the same region, but you must be flexible about the specific location within the region.

3. I don't like my placement, can I be reassigned to another school?

The Regional Education Authority is in charge of the allocation process and placements are definite. Although we might ask about your preferences in terms of location and age range to inform the Education Authority, you should be open-minded and flexible about those aspects. They always try to accommodate the participants' preferences, but there are thousands of auxiliares and it is just not possible to accommodate everyone's choices.

4. Can I teach in one region and live in a different one?

No, you must live in your school's province due to legal requirements. For example, you cannot be living in the Region of Murcia if your school placement is in the Community of Madrid.

5. Will Auxiliares de Conversación have holidays?

Auxiliares are entitled to the same paid holidays as the rest of the teaching staff. These include Christmas break, Easter, local and regional festivities, plus additional long weekends (puentes) that the district's academic calendar recognizes. As the summer break is after the end of the program, it is not included.

STAY IN SPAIN

1. How long will I be able to stay in Spain after the program finishes?

The answer to this question varies depending on your passport and documentation. If you are a successful candidate, our experts in the Welcome Team will be happy to give you all details.

2. Is Spanish required to participate in the program?

Spanish is not required to be an Auxiliar de Conversación and many of our auxiliares join the program with little or no knowledge of the language. However, we always recommend learning some Spanish before arriving in Spain. That is why ConversaSpain has partnered with language academies and institutes to offer Spanish courses before you arrive in Spain as well as during your stay. More details will be shared with successful candidates.

3. I am bringing someone else and/or my pet with me. Will ConversaSpain provide all of us with support?

Our support only covers our participants and the documentation required for this program (student visas). If you are planning on bringing someone with you, contact your corresponding Spanish consulate before applying for the program, as changes to the Spanish Immigration law may affect dependents' visas. If you bring your pet, they will require travel documents and you may encounter problems finding housing, as many landlords do not accept pets.

4. How much should I save before the beginning of the program?

It depends on your country of origin, but you should consider expenses such as visa application, medical certificate, national police clearance, apostille or legalization of documents, and flights. We recommend having around €2,500 to €3,000 saved before the beginning of the program to cover your initial expenses in Spain until you receive your first stipend: accommodation (deposit plus first month's rent), food, transportation, bills, etc. Therefore, it is important to plan accordingly and ahead of time.

5. Will the stipend be enough while I am in Spain?

It will depend on each one's living standards. Keep in mind that the interprofessional minimum wage in Spain is €1,184 per month for 40 hours of work and that your stipend will be completely tax-free in Spain. In any case, remember that the cost of living varies depending on the region and specific location as well.

6. Does the program include medical coverage?

Yes! All of our participants will be covered. Once you join the program, you will receive further details. Some medications or pre-existing conditions may not be covered. This is why it is important to share any information about health conditions at the interview, so our team can answer your questions, and give you all details upfront before you commit to the program.

7. Will I be able to get another job while in Spain?

According to the limited information we have, you could potentially get a job if you wish, but it will likely entail paying taxes both in your country and in Spain. In addition, specific rules and laws may apply in terms of the duration of the contract or the number of hours. Unfortunately, we cannot provide you with details on this topic, as it is outside of our scope. It will be your responsibility to obtain the specific information depending on your particular circumstances. In any case, if you sign a contract with an employer, your job cannot interfere with your school's schedule by any means. If this happens, your placement at the school will be canceled.

8. What happens if I withdraw from the program after arriving in Spain?

Your authorization to be in Spain is directly linked to the program, so it will automatically be canceled (along with the health insurance) and you will have to leave the country.

Looking to extend your stay for a second year?

One of the advantages of this program is that you will be able to renew if you have positive feedback from your school. We will give you all the necessary information and guide you through the process in due time for a fraction of the fee.

However, bear in mind that auxiliares are limited to a maximum of 4 years in public schools in Spain (consecutive or not).
