TWENTIETH CONGRESS
First Regular Session
HOUSE BILL NO. 4570

INTRODUCED BY REPRESENTATIVE MARLYN L. PRIMICIAS-AGABAS

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The legal landscape in the Philippines has evolved to recognize the indispensable role of paralegals in supporting the delivery of justice and legal services. Paralegals, by virtue of their training and experience, have become vital partners in law offices, government agencies, non-governmental organizations, and even in grassroots communities. However, despite their growing presence and contribution, there remains no comprehensive law that defines, regulates, and professionalizes the practice of paralegals in our country.

This bill seeks to address that gap. By establishing a clear legal framework for the education, licensure, and regulation of paralegals, we aim to ensure that those who assist in the administration of justice are held to the highest standards of competence and integrity. The creation of a Professional Regulatory Board for Paralegals under the Professional Regulation Commission (PRC) is consistent with the State's policy, as articulated in Republic Act No. 8981, otherwise known as the "PRC Modernization Act of 2000" to promote the sustained development of a reservoir of professionals whose competence is determined by honest and credible licensure examinations and whose standards of practice are internationally recognized.

The experience of other regulated professions, such as pharmacy (RA 10918) and architecture (RA 9266), demonstrates the value of a regulatory regime. These laws have not only elevated the standards of their respective professions but have also protected the public from unqualified practitioners. The Supreme Court in *Remman Enterprises, Inc. vs. Professional Regulatory Board of Real Estate Service*¹, affirmed the constitutionality of professional regulatory laws, emphasizing that such measures are a valid exercise of the State's police power and are essential to safeguarding public interest.

By defining the scope of paralegal practice, setting minimum qualifications, and instituting a system of licensure and discipline, this bill will help professionalize the field and ensure that paralegals are equipped to meet the demands of a modern legal system. It also provides mechanisms for continuing professional development and integration into a national organization, in line with best practices for other professions.

In sum, the passage of this measure is a necessary step toward strengthening the legal profession as a whole, enhancing access to justice, and upholding the rule of law.
