 - Ensure that all people involved in a grant conduct their activities in a way that avoids any actual or perceived conflict of interest
 - Report to the district any potential or real misuse or mismanagement of grant funds
 - Cooperate with any financial, grant, or operational audits
 - Maintain a standard set of accounts, which includes a general ledger and a complete record of all receipts and all disbursements of grant funds
 - Disburse grant funds in accordance with the Terms and Conditions for Rotary Foundation District Grants and Global Grants
 - Maintain records for items that are purchased, produced, or distributed through grant activities
 - Maintain a dedicated bank account to be used only for receiving and disbursing grant funds

- Have a minimum of two Rotarian bank account signatories from the sponsoring clubs or districts for disbursements
- Maintain a separation of duties for handling funds so no one person is solely in control of them
- Maintain a written plan for transferring custody of bank accounts in the event of a change in signatories
- Retain bank statements to substantiate the receipt and use of grant funds
- Retain grant documents in a location known by and accessible to club and district officers
- Retain grant documents for a minimum of five years, or longer if required by local law

10. CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Any real or perceived conflicts of interest must be disclosed to The Rotary Foundation, in compliance with The Rotary Foundation's Conflict of Interest Policy for Program Participants in the Terms and Conditions for Rotary Foundation District Grants and Global Grants. This includes any instances of Rotarians acting as vendors or serving as trustees, directors, officers, or staff of one of the Organizations. If in doubt, any potential conflict should be disclosed.

Identify any real or perceived conflicts here:

TIPS FOR COMPLETING THIS FORM

GENERAL

If you're working with just one organization, provide information for Organization 1 only. Always include the Rotary Host Sponsor and International Sponsor.

PROJECT OBJECTIVES

In this section, project partners outline the overall goals of the project that all partners hope to achieve together.

For example:

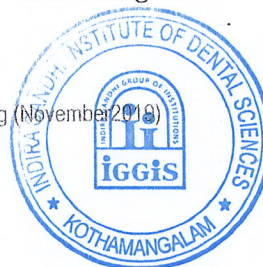

- Improve the quality of education students receive at Community Primary School
- Improve the quality of care for cancer patients at Community Hospital
- Increase farmers' yields by 10% through drip irrigation

RESPONSIBILITIES SECTIONS

Meeting with all project partners to assign responsibilities and record them in writing can prevent conflicts and increase your project's chances of success. It helps ensure that everyone agrees on the basics of the project plan and prevents confusion during implementation. When you define the responsibilities of each partner, carefully consider their resources and skills. Remember that each project has its own unique roles and responsibilities that are essential for effective implementation. List detailed and specific responsibilities for your project.

Questions to consider when determining responsibilities:

- Who will provide technical and professional services? What specific services will be provided, or what specific skills are needed?
- What types of staffing, infrastructure, or equipment is required, and who will provide those?
- Who will provide training, mentoring, education, advocacy, and financial review?
- Who will direct and coordinate local community education and public relations?
- Who will seek community support and resources for the project?
- Who will manage the grant funds and pay suppliers, vendors, and contractors?
- Will cooperating organizations submit itemized expense statements and receipts before they receive grant funds?
- Who will direct and coordinate fundraising efforts?

- Who will pay for long-term equipment maintenance, operations, programming, and staffing after Rotary Grant funding ends? (Note that Rotarians may continue to support the project, but the project should not depend solely on that support.)
- Who will prepare Rotary Grant reports? Who will collaborate on reporting?
- How will financial records be stored? Who will maintain these records? What is the document retention plan?
- Who will measure and evaluate the project's outcomes? How will they do this? Who will collect results? How will the outcomes be shared?

MUTUAL UNDERSTANDINGS

For legal reasons, the Foundation needs this section to remain as it is. It must not be added to or edited. We understand that, for certain relationships, Rotarians may need to sign a second MOU or contract to comply with local laws. Even in such cases, however, the Foundation needs this MOU to be submitted with your grant application.

AUTHORIZATIONS

Make sure that all parties have signed the MOU. If any signature is missing, it will be considered incomplete. Each sponsor and organization should decide who will represent it as a signatory.

If you have any concerns or questions, your regional grants officer can review your MOU before it is signed to make sure it's complete.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING (MOU) between
INDIRA GANDHI INSTITUTE OF DENTAL SCIENCES, NELLIKUZHI, KOTHAMANGALAM
and
ROTARY CLUB OF PERUMBAVOOR CENTRAL (Dist 3201)

This is an agreement between "Indira Gandhi Institute of Dental Sciences, Nellikuzhi, Kothamangalam", hereinafter called IGIDS and "Rotary Club of Perumbavoor Central", hereinafter called RCPC.

I. PURPOSE & SCOPE

The purpose of this MoU is to clearly identify the roles and responsibilities of each party as they relate to the 'Say No to Oral Cancer' Project.

In particular, this MoU is intended towards the community service project 'SAY NO TO ORAL CANCER' – a collaborative project of Rotary Club of Perumbavoor Central and Indira Gandhi Institute of Dental Sciences.

It's a program with a focus on all levels of prevention – primordial, primary, secondary, tertiary incorporating mainly the administrative, health education and primary health care approaches to health education.

The objectives of the program include:

1. Creating awareness among all sections of the community regarding early diagnosis and treatment for cancer with a focus on prevention
2. Oral screening and examination for detection of premalignant lesions and conditions, and early diagnosis of cancerous lesions
3. Provision for referral, treatment and follow-up for patients diagnosed with premalignant lesions/conditions and oral cancer
4. Assist in quitting the deleterious oral habits through counselling and advise

II. BACKGROUND

Oral cancer

Oral cancer is a major problem in the Indian subcontinent where it ranks among the top three types of cancer in the country. Age-adjusted rates of oral cancer in India is high, that is, 20 per 100,000 population and accounts for over 30% of all cancers in the country. The variation in incidence and pattern of the disease can be attributed to the combined effect of ageing of the population, as well as regional differences in the prevalence of disease-specific risk factors. Oral cancer is of significant public health importance to India. Firstly, it is diagnosed at later stages which result in low treatment outcomes and considerable costs to the patients whom typically cannot afford this type of treatment. Secondly, rural areas in middle- and low-income countries also have inadequate access to trained providers and limited health services. As a result, delay has also been largely associated with advanced stages of oral cancer. Earlier detection of oral cancer offers the best chance for long term survival and has the potential to improve treatment outcomes and make healthcare affordable. Thirdly, oral cancer affects those from the lower socioeconomic groups, that is, people from the lower socioeconomic strata of society due to a higher exposure to risk factors such as the use of tobacco. Lastly, even though clinical diagnosis occurs via examination of the oral cavity and tongue which is accessible by current diagnostic tools, the majority of cases present to a healthcare facility at later stages of cancer subtypes, thereby reducing chances of survival due to delays in diagnosis. Public health officials, private hospitals, and academic medical centres within India have recognised oral cancer as a grave problem. Oral cancer will remain a major health problem and efforts towards early detection, and prevention will reduce this burden.

Indira Gandhi Institute of Dental Sciences

Established in the year 2007, IGIDS the dental teaching institution in Ernakulam district of Kerala is in the forefront about the community service projects and outreach activities. The institution has a focus on prevention and management of oral cancer and has a dedicated Oral Cancer Prevention and Detection cell that aims to focus on tobacco – the leading cause of one of the most preventable cancer. With a team of specialist doctors and necessary infrastructure the institution can be involved in the service component of the project.
