

Spotlight on Justice

Profiling the 82 Candidates for Superior Courts of Record

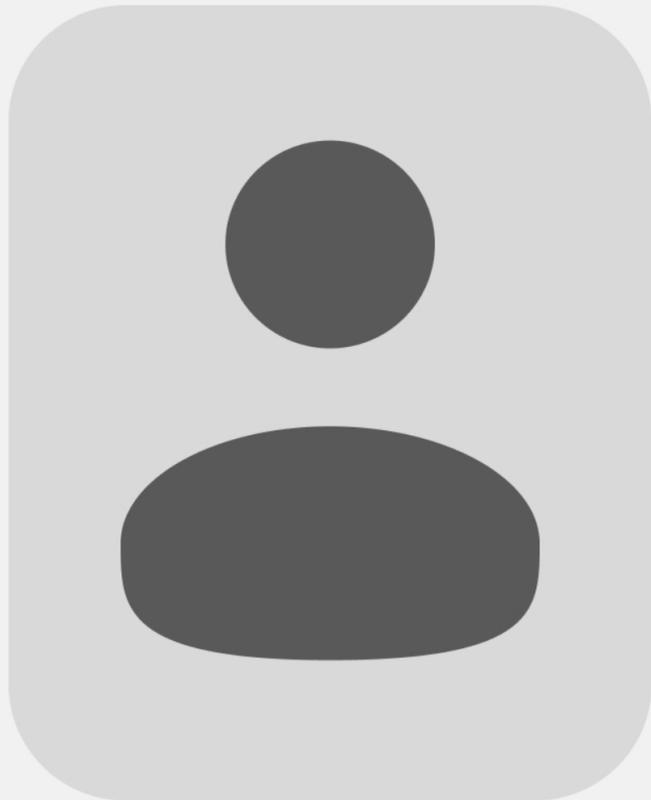

Introduction

In line with the National Judicial Council's recent publication of 82 shortlisted candidates for judicial appointments, and its call for public input on their integrity, reputation, and overall suitability, Citizens Gavel has undertaken the task of independently profiling each nominee.

This initiative supports ongoing efforts to reform the judicial appointment process by promoting transparency, accountability, and merit-based selection. As an organization committed to justice and good governance, Citizens Gavel recognizes the vital role judicial officers play in upholding the rule of law. We urge members of the public, civil society actors, and stakeholders to engage with this report and use the information provided to actively contribute informed opinions to the appointment process.

Citizens Gavel has undertaken the task of independently profiling each nominee... to support ongoing efforts to reform the judicial appointment process by promoting transparency, accountability, and merit-based selection.

Conclusion

This report highlights the diverse backgrounds and qualifications of the 82 candidates shortlisted for appointment to superior courts of record across various jurisdictions. By providing a comprehensive overview, Citizens Gavel aims to empower citizens with the knowledge needed to assess the suitability of these nominees. The integrity and competence of judicial officers are cornerstone to a fair legal system, making public participation in this process essential.

Call to Action

We encourage all citizens to review the profiles, submit comments or complaints to the National Judicial Council within the 14-day period, and actively participate in shaping the future of our judiciary. Your voice matters—engage today to ensure a just and accountable judicial system.
